Psychedelic and vibey, the album recalls 90s Britpop, Berlin era Bowie, and neo-psychedelic bands such as Brian Jonestown Massacre. An apocalyptic fever dream set to an isolation-themed rock and roll house party soundtrack.

Along with the album the band made a 35 minute music video/band movie which chronicles the increasingly strange times as well as the band's travels across America over the past several years.

Music recorded at Cacophony Recorders and Good Danny's in Austin, Texas. Mixed and mastered by Erik Wofford (Black Angels, White Denim, Molly Burch).
